Bliss is in the world who daily tries
To better his condition;
And does his best to keep his trade
In iron, brass or tin;
It should not be neglected,
And every man should be
Which ought to be Protected.

Can it be right to patronize
To undersell another land
By paying pauper wages?
And then expect to have home
If there is no objection
Assisted Protection.
Assisting for Protection.

Protect your home and friends,
"Protect a friendly neighbor,
Buy your country and its labor,
Or you will be poor if it's too late,
And then you will be sorry.

A MATRIMONIAL STORM.

The Woes and Tribulations of a Badly Mated Couple.

Early last winter Mr. and Mrs. James Young, living near Ripley, and who had been married 25 years, became so ill and so disagreeable, or rather Mrs. Young decided to leave her husband, claiming that she and her children were not provided for, that he had no money to live without fuel, clothes or anything to satisfy their hunger, while the husband spent his money for drink and braggadocio. Consequently Mrs. Young, realizing that she was no longer the loved and honored queen of a happy home, went to a restaurant in a neighboring town where she secured employment in a restaurant. She was pursued by her husband, who endeavored to persuade her to return to him, but she would not consent to this, and he made numerous promises to lead a more devoted life. But golden memories of unsullied devotion which had once lingered in her heart, always returned to trouble her, and she became a dejected, broken-hearted husband returned without his alienated wife.

She was soon joined at Lexington, however, by her son, John, who had made his Ohio home his place of abode, and the two went to Cincinnati. It is said, they lived as husband and wife.

Jane learned of her whereabouts and upon going to Cincinnati pursued her to return to him. She was received with open arms, and the two were married again. The wedding couple sailed on serene waters up to last Saturday with Mrs. Young's son and a friend of his, who had dedicated his life to the service of his country. The bride was a woman of great beauty and the wedding was a most impressive ceremony.

At 10 o'clock it was developed that John had been living at the Young home and he was still smitten with Mrs. Young's charms, and paid his attention in such a way as to round all the angles of the house. John, however, had been estranged from his wife for a few days and then went back away for a few days and then went back again. REPUBLICAN JUDICIAL CONVENTION.

The Republicans of the Nineteenth Judicial District, composed of the counties of Mason, Fleming, Lewis, Greenup, and Bracken, will meet in convention at Maysville, Ky., on Tuesday, October 16, 1892, at 1 o'clock p.m., for the purpose of nominating candidates for Circuit Judges and Commonwealth Attorney for said Judicial District.

The representation from the various counties said Convention shall be based upon the number of registered voters in said counties in 1888, each county being entitled to one delegate for every one hundred votes or fraction over fifty thereof cast at said election. Said convention will govern themselves accordingly in selecting delegates to said convention.

JOHN P. MCCARTNEY,

Chairman District Committee.

TO REPUBLICANS OF Mason.

Pursuant to the call of the Chairman of this Judicial District Committee, a convention will be held in Maysville on Tuesday, October 16, at 1 o'clock p.m., for the purpose of nominating candidates for Circuit Judge and Commonwealth Attorney.

It was agreed in the County Convention held in the city of Sevierville, Tennessee, that the delegates agreed to the Ashland Convention should also be considered delegates to the Judicial Convention, and they will act as such.

A resolution was also offered and passed at said County Convention, instructing the delegates to the Judicial Convention to vote for the nomination of A. M. J. Cochran as the Republican candidate for Circuit Judge.

D. P. OLT, Chairman County Com.

THE Ashland Signal says a number of old soldiers in this District want to know why Mr. PAYNTER shirked the vote on the general pension bill. Come up, Tom; come from under cover and explain the reason.

On no; it isn't "un-American" in The Kentucky Journal when it argues that American workers haven't skill or sense enough to make a tin plate.

OUR contemporary of The Bulletin will probably be shocked when he learns that Colonel ALEXANDER K. MCCLURE of the Democratic Philadelphia Times insists on voting the Republican ticket.

It doesn't look very much like The Ashland Signal was burning up with Democracy when it says JOHN McCARTNEY "is just the man to knock the socks off Mr. PAYNTER, as the latter will find out before November."

THE report that certain immigrants arriving at Philadelphia have been compelled to work in the barns may do more to check immigration than all the proclamations that can be framed. Let the Government have the report telegraphed to all the countries of Europe at once.

THE Democratic Legislature of Kentucky is now between the Devil and Governor BROWN. It is not at all impossible that the so-called Electoral Law passed by it and approved by the Governor will be a full investigation as to its legality will be declared imperative. Several very eminent Democratic lawyers have expressed grave doubts as to the validity of the bill, and the Frankfort correspondent of The Louisville Times says if it is not re-enacted by October 4th it must "stand the test of the Courts, and perhaps of the Republican Federal Court."

At a regimental reunion during the late Washington Encampment General SICKLES said: "I know President HARRISON. He was a brave soldier. REX HARRISON sent no substitute to the front. He went himself and did some effective fighting. I have personal knowledge of his bravery on several occasions."

These remarks, coming from the lips of a Democrat, caused a sensation. It is freely predicted that General SICKLES, whom Governor HILL appointed Sheriff of the county of the deposited FLACK, will be found opposing CLEVELAND in November.

General SLOCUM was also present at the reunion and showed by his conversation that he had not changed the opinion he expressed at the Chicago Convention when he said that CLEVELAND could not carry the soldier vote of New York.

COL. CANADY,

Ex-Sergeant-at-Arms of the United States Senate, Commits Suicide in His Room at Washington, By Shooting.

His Father Threatens Him With Arrest When a Sum of Money Is Reported Missing—The Suicide Declared That Burglars Stole It.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 23.—There was considerable excitement Tuesday morning when it was found that Col. Canady, ex-surgeon-at-arms of the Senate, had shot himself through the head, causing instant death. There have been startling developments in connection with the suicide of ex-sergeant Canady.

He was in partnership in the brokerage business with J. O. A. Houghton, who had invested $10,000 in the concern. Of this $2,000 were in the safe Monday night. Canady sent for him Tuesday morning and told him colored burglars had taken the safe, and had him and others to him to the office door.

The story was disbelieved and Houghton threatened Canady with arrest. A Mr. Stevenson, whose apartments were above Col. Canady's office, says Canady called him about 4 o'clock and told him that he had overpowered him and taken his effects.

All the evidences of this were very dim. It was after that Canady sent for Houghton. When the offices came to let, to send a warning, they found Canady had committed suicide. He left a note for his partner saying: "After your conduct this morning I have no further use for life."

Charred paper, said to represent great value, was found on the office floor.

Col. Canady had been from his wife for some time. His name has been connected with a young woman for whom the police are looking to get some trace of the missing $2,000. Canady has been in financial trouble for some time.

In the self-inflicted death, Tuesday morning, of Col. Wm. P. Canady, of North Carolina, the recent sergeant-at-arms of the senate, the oil readjuster party lost one of its most conspicuous figures. Col. Canady was a Confederate soldier who came into public life with the advent of Mahone and Riddleberger of Virginia.

He was the "Southern manager" of Senator Sherman for some years prior to the Civil War and represented the interests of the senate upon the earnest solicitation of Sherman. He was a close political friend of Mahone and Riddleberger for some time, and then they became enemies. It was he who took charge of Riddleberger at one time.

TRAINMEN KILLED.

Wounded Passengers Plotted to Kill Trainmen.—Ala., Sept. 23.—Two miles south of Opelika, Ala., at 2 a.m., a terrible wreck occurred on the Westbound rail road of Alabama. The westbound fast express ran into some wild boars, which were captured when they had broken out of the switch, which had buried them beneath the wrecks. Engineer Lewis Wills and Fireman Tom Willis, brothers, were instantly killed and buried beneath the wrecks. Postal clerks Carter and Landrus were fatally hurt.

Six passengers were seriously wounded. The wreckage took fire, and 100 balls of cotton bursted with the postal car and mail matter. The wounded passengers were taken to the hospital in the wreckage, and the shrivelled with terror as it burst into flame. They were rescued with difficulty and were conveyed to Opelika, where they are receiving medical treatment.

GUILTY COUPLE CAUGHT.

Steals Jewels and Their Home.

NEW YORK, Sept. 23.—Mrs. Henry Marsh and Mr. McIntosh, who were arrested on a charge of grand larceny, were held by Harry Fehl, who says he is the administrator of Gamble Weir, of Pittsburgh, who died in January. He alleges that Mrs. Marsh and McIntosh disappeared with a sum of $1,000 worth of personal property, jewelry and diamonds belonging to Weir.

The police made a thorough search of their house at Stapleton, and jewelry was found which is claimed to have been taken from Weir.

Mr. Fehl, who is a lawyer, said the case is now in the hands of the attorney-general instead of by Fetterman Lamb.

It holds that Lamb is entitled to bring suit and that the bill of plaintiff contains sufficient ground to warrant a trial on the overthrow of the last grand jury.

The defense is given until Friday to answer the bill of the plaintiff.

Four Chinese Comply With the Law.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 23.—Four Chinese, who have been regarded the scurvy recently as being the most notorious of the Russi-ans that they were instructed to make only a pretense of seizing American vessels, the real object being to assert such rights in Behring sea as would materially assist the United States in the approaching arbitration. By this means, cablegrams regarding these seafarers are passing daily between the British and Canadian governments, and the sending of a British gunboat to the scene is an almost certainty. The contingencies are certain to continue as a result of the present political condition of the city, and the procession to the Villa Guadalupe was impressive.
